,Hello SBCL Maintainers

My name is Shay Mordechai, and I am a security researcher. I have identified a critical security vulnerability in the SBCL Compiler (specifically involving Lexical Scope Bypass and Dynamic Binding Injection) and I have a verified Proof-of-Concept (PoC).

I originally reported this to the Israeli National Cyber Directorate (CERT-IL) several months ago to handle the coordinated disclosure, but it seems the report may not have reached you yet. I have also initiated the CVE assignment process via MITRE.

Since this is a public mailing list, I am withholding the technical details and the PoC to prevent any abuse before a patch is available.

Could you please provide a secure email address or a PGP key where I can safely send the full vulnerability report and the PoC? Alternatively, if you prefer, I can open a private security bug on Launchpad.

,Thank you
Shay Mordechai
